Managing Director's Message

INTRODUCING OUR TECHNICAL STAFF

The Cape Playhouse counts itself particularly fortunate to have the services of its talented scenic designers, Helen Pond and Herbert Senn, summer after summer, as those of you who have admired and marveled at the striking and imaginative sets produced by Helen and Herbert every week will surely agree. The pair met at Columbia University about 20 years ago as graduate students; and after their first season working together in summer stock, they became hooked on the theatre and have been partners ever since, designing sets for the Playhouse in the summer, for Broadway shows several winters, and most recently for Sarah Caldwell's Boston Opera Company the past few seasons. If you should wander down to the scene shop, you will be greeted pleasantly and made to feel welcome as Helen and Herbert explain what they are busy designing, painting or building at the moment.

Tom Bridwell, who has been associated with our backstage crew since 1965, was the logical choice to promote to stage manager when our previous stage manager, Lynn Montgomery, left us this summer for an important job at the Berkshire Theatre Festival. Tom is the Playhouse poet who had a book of verse published last year. Working with him backstage is his wife Joanne who has succeeded the late Irene Fagan as wardrobe mistress. Joanne formerly worked as props assistant and box office assistant. Winters find her teaching art in the Orleans school system.

Robert Tompkins, who has done lighting for us the past three seasons, will be at North Carolina School of the Arts at Winston-Salem after he leaves the Cape this fall, majoring in design. His previous experience was with the Santa Fe Opera Company in New Mexico.

Back for her second season as Props girl is Monica Kidd who spends a great deal of her time on the road in the Playhouse truck looking for appropriate props. Monica formerly worked at the Yarmouth Playhouse. She plans to return to Florida State at Tallahassee this winter. Assisting Monica in the props department is Rocky Farkas, a Florida native who hopes to attend the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in the future.

What with women's lib and all, it should not be surprising to find we have a female carpenter on our staff. Suzanne Hayden, a lifelong summer resident of Dennis, wandered into the Playhouse two summers ago and begged for a chance to do anything. She was hired immediately to help run the difficult CACTUS FLOWER and has been with us ever since. Although a graduate of Wheelock College, Suzanne prefers the world of the theatre to the world of teaching and has worked with designers Pond and Senn on sets for the Boston Opera Company.

Our other carpenter, Kim Reimer, will be a senior at Florida State at Tallahassee. He plans to follow in the footsteps of his father who is Technical Director at Florida State University and make the theatre his career. Last winter he, too, worked with our designers at the Boston Opera Company.

Technician Fritz Farrington is seeing the ocean for the first time in his life, as he lives and goes to school in Minnesota. Fritz is a theatre major at Mankato College.

Technician John Piccard has an interesting background: his grandfather, Jean Piccard, was the pioneer Swiss balloonist and his great-uncle, Auguste Piccard, designed the bathyscathe. John also is a Florida State student and this is his first summer at the Playhouse.

Dave Bachelder is seeing Cape Cod for the first time as the result of a letter asking for a chance to work with Helen and Herbert. He attended Ohlone Community College in California and intends to make his career in the technical end of the theatre.

In his third season at the Playhouse Marc Olivere will be a senior at Sanford High School in Hockessin, Delaware. Greg Hamm, another summer resident of Dennis, is a graduate of Scarborough, N.Y. High School and will attend Ithaca College as a freshman in the fall.

Keeping the Playhouse spruced up from lobby to loge is the job of Rosemary Byrne from Worcester. Rosemary is an honors graduate of Loyola College in Montreal and will be attending graduate school at McGill University this fall where she will major in child care development. Her ambition is to open a day care center.

Sincerely,

Charles Mooney

MID-SEASON ROUNDUP:

Well, here we are together at MID-SEASON ON CAPE COD. As we welcome those visitors among you who are just coming down, we year-rounders, seasonal folks and remaining visitors can bask in remembrance of one of the finest Junes and Julys, weatherwise, for fun-in-the-sun in some seasons. For getting around, browsing, shopping dining and theatre going, too, the humidity has been low-low and temperatures pleasantly warm, encouraging large attendance at CAPE BEACHES, then after the dunking and sun bathing, having a go at all the shops, activities, entertainments varied restaurants. Speaking of ROUNDUP ... Roundup the bunch and head out the North Side of the Cape, Route 6-A to CAPE COD RANCH. Here, located off 6-A and BONEHILL ROAD, (you'll see the RANCH SIGNS), you'll find a SMORGAS-BORD Dining treat, unequaled anywhere on Cape. The host's (or should I say Ranch Foreman) offer is to EAT ALL YOU LIKE for $3.95 per person. Over 40 ITEMS to choose from, both HOT and COLD DISHES. And hold onto your mess plate the price for the check INCLUDES DESSERT and COFFEE. So saddle up, but get your reservations in early.

While galloping around, rein into the New World of OLD HARBOR CANDLE Co. If you present their ad in any issue of The CAPE PLAYBILL on your visit you'll receive a FREE PRINT of President Kennedy's home in Hyannisport, which incidently, is only a short distance from Old Harbor's beautiful display shop and plant. You can also enjoy a FREE GUIDED TOUR of their factory and visit the PRESIDENTIAL GALLERY. Their wide variety of novel and decorative candles are all EXCLUSIVE DESIGNS. They also have stocks of SELECTED SECONDS on hand.

Push the mare a bit and tie up in the HYANNIS PARK area of HYANNIS and sit you down in a comfortable chair -- THE CAPTAIN'S CHAIR, that is located on the WATER FRONT of LEWIS Bay on BAY VIEW STREET. Skipped by host, ROY CHASE with his lovely wife GAIL as hostess you'll get all steamed up over the BARNSTABLE STEAMERS. Try 'em with a skittle of beer. They're delivered FRESH DAILY as is all ROY's SEA FOOD. His SEA FOOD PLATE, loaded with all varieties of FISH and LOBSTER, has a sea-taste tang that will excite

Out a stretch on ROUTE 28, WEST DENNIS way are the CAPE's FAMOUS KOPPER KRAFTERS. In their tastefully laid out shop you'll find ANTIQUE and NEW BRASS & COPPER in wide variety and of INTRIGUING DESIGNS for all occasions in decorating or for household use. The ladies of all ages will want to step into the adjoining TOWN & COUNTRY CLOTHES SHOP, where you'll find a fashion selection that will have wide appeal. So target in on these shops.

The VILLA VECCHIONE, HYANNIS, Great ITALIAN FOODS, now has BEER & WINE. Out in SOUTH YARMOUTH, the BASS RIVER area on Route 28, cordial host HARRY DAVIS has corralled the tenderest PRIME STEER STEAKS, which he specializes in serving up Charcoal Broiled at his restaurant, HARRY DAVIS' 1620 STEAK HOUSE. Harry's slogan is his word to you: "EVERY MEAL A PLEASANT MEMORY." The charming dining room is completely Air Conditioned where you can enjoy your before dinner cocktail or quaff a favorite brew. The menu is varried and includes LOBSTER and NATIVE SEA FOOD FAVORITES. You'll enjoy the atmosphere out thar.

If you have a little poke you wish to stash away we recommend the WAREHAM SAVINGS BANK. The main office is in WAREHAM, on MAIN STREET and a branch is conveniently located in FALMOUTH. If you are staking out land or building they'll be pleased to discuss loans with you. Just drop in.

At any time when you're ON CAPE, you'll find many entertaining diversions for all ages. There are all kinds of chances for this and you can get detailed information or brochures at The CAPE COD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE office off Route 132 adjoining the MID-CAPE HIGHWAY, (Route 6). There are many MUSEUMS ostensibly for entertainment. The RAILROAD MUSEUM at CHATHAM, the SOLDIER MUSEUM at SANDWICH and while in that quaint town have lunch or dinner at the famous DANIEL WEBSTER INN annex. They're planning to rebuild the Inn using original plans. It was destroyed by fire last spring, but the ANNEX is interesting, since it was the original FIRE HOUSE. There's action there in the form of nightly entertainment. Another Museum is the PILGRIM MEMORIAL at PROVINCETOWN; the MARINE MUSEUMS and DISPLAYS at WOOD'S HOLE. During your visit here at Falmouth, is THE FLYING BRIDGE Restaurant. Their spacious dining rooms with their big picture windows overlook beautiful Falmouth Harbor where you can relax at LUNCHEON or DINNER. While you watch the picturesque harbor boating activity enjoy cocktails mixed to your taste either at your table, in the cocktail lounge or at their ample bar.

Around Cape Cod

At these Museums dotting the Cape you can enjoy exhibits on the evolution of transportation, the far ranging travels of such Cape Cod explorers as the late REAR ADMIRAL DONALD B. MacMILLAN, who helped discover the North Pole. His records and papers are now a part of this display, recently bestowed by his wife.

However, it is not necessary to confine one's visits to Museums to enjoy a bit of history amid an eye-appealing background. Such is THE WICKER TREE Restaurant, North FALMOUTH at the junction of ROUTES 28-A and 151 -- Just three miles out from The FALMOUTH PLAYHOUSE. The history behind the novel name of famous dining place is predicated on the fact that certain tree branches, native to the area, were suitable to mold into wicker furniture, according to FORDON HEALD, the genial proprietor. Hence the name WICKER TREE. Surrounded by nature's splendor you will enjoy their FAMED SALAD BUFFET. And, to your delight, CLAMS as served up by their SHIP'S DORY CLAM BAR. If you are theatre bound, THE WICKER TREE, specializes in a "QUICK ESCAPE" PRE-THEATRE DINNER. Then after theatre, head back and enjoy the POST THEATRE ENTERTAINMENT by the WICKER TREE SINGERS. Their melodious arrangements will round out your evenings pleasure.

Extra-Sensory Perception From On Stage

As a play-goer, have you had thoughts about whether or not the actors or actresses on stage have any perception to the way you as the audience are reacting to individual performances, or the continuity of the play, as a whole? Certainly you have, even if only fleetingly.

Extra-sensory perception, in the literal sense means, 'beyond the perception of the recognized senses. Thus, the cast, on stage, with full concentration on their lines and acting are still aware of viewer reaction as an audience. They definitely, as pro-professionals, can feel response, or the lack of it as they progress in the play. Many stars, featured players and even experienced supporting players time their actions, gestures or lines to the audience on hand. They do not impair the progress of the play in such timing, nor digress from the directors overall integration of the characters that they are interpereting; rather they add, individually or collectively, to the audiences' enjoyment, at the time.

Audiences are different, at every performance. Performers know this. The season, the weather, time of performance -- matinee or evening -- present a challenge on stage. As a play continues into a longer run this challenge grows and cast members are ever watchful for this audience reaction so as to not become robot-like or mechanical during the life of the play.

Summer theatre audiences are more tolerant and enjoy experimentation or new offerings. Actors and actresses, from star to supporting players, enjoy this change and this type of response. Yet, with it all, they are professionals that you are viewing at these performances, so settle back with the realization that those 'on stage' will take audience cues from your response to their efforts.

SANDY DENNIS (Catherine Reardon)

Sandy Dennis won Tony Awards for her performance as the flighty social worker who invaded Jason Robards' apartment in A THOUSAND CLOWNS, and the most fascinating tax deduction ever to grace an executive's penthouse in ANY WEDNESDAY, a show that brought her instant stardom. (A THOUSAND CLOWNS incidentally served to introduce her to Gene Saks, director of HOW THE OTHER HALF LOVES, who scored a triumph of his own in the comedy role of Chuckles.) She received an Oscar for Best Supporting Performance when she played Honey in the film, WHO'S AFRAID OF VIRGINIA WOOLF? starring Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor. A native of Nebraska, Miss Dennis received the first Best Actress award of her career when she was voted that honor after playing in THE RAIMAKER with the Lincoln (Nebraska) Community Playhouse. After a year at Nebraska University she came to New York, where she studied acting with Herbert Berghof and auditioned for every show she heard about. She made her Off-Broadway bow in a revival of Ibsen's LADY FROM THE SEA, then got an understudy assignment on Broadway in William Inge's DARK AT THE TOP OF THE STAIRS. She presently took over the role and played it on tour. She had a small part in the film, SPLENDOR IN THE GRASS, and returned to Broadway with Jack Lemmon in FACE OF A HERO. She played the ingenue role in Graham Greene's THE COMPLAISANT LOVER, creating a memorable unrehearsed moment of her own on opening night when she lost her slip in full view of the audience. Following her successes in A THOUSAND CLOWNS and ANY WEDNESDAY she returned to film work. Her subsequent motion pictures include VIRGINIA WOOLF, UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE, SWEET NOVEMBER, THE OUT OF TOWNERS and THANK YOU ALL VERY MUCH.

SALOME JENS (Anna Reardon)

Salome Jens was recently seen in William Gibson's JOHN AND ABIGAIL and on Broadway in John Osborne's A PATRIOT FOR ME with Maximilian Schell. She has scored major successes under the prestigious Circle-in-the-Square banner, having played Josie Hogan there in O'Neill's A MOON FOR THE MISBEGOTTEN and on national tour. It was also at the Circle that she gave theatre-goers something to talk about in Genet's THE BALCONY, for which she won a Clarence Derwent award at the same time. Miss Jens was a charter member of the Lincoln Center Repertory Company and appeared in AFTER THE FALL, BUT FOR WHOM CHARLIE and TARTUFFE with the group. Her first film was ANGEL BABY opposite George Hamilton; she has been seen in SECONDS with Rock Hudson, THE FOOL KILLER with Tony Perkins and recently ME, NATALIE; she has just finished filming THE SAVAGES. Her Broadway credits include A FAR COUNTRY, THE DISENCHANTED and NIGHT LIFE, among others; and some of her additional off-Broadway appearances were made in BALD SOPRANO and JACK, DEIRDRE OF THE SORROWS, U.S.A. and DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS (another Circle in the Square success). She comes from Milwaukee and attended Northwestern University.

M'EL DOWD (Ceil Adams)

M'el Dowd - Miss Dowd created the co-starring role of Amelia in Ann Sexton's MERCY STREET at the American Place Theatre and stood-by for Angela Lansbury in DEAR WORLD. She is soon to be seen co-starring in the ABC Film's, THE THREE HUNDRED YEAR WEEKEND. She was seen as Andromache in the Lincoln Center production of TIGER AT THE GATES, straight from her appearance on Broadway in Edward Albee's EVERYTHING IN THE GARDEN. She was last seen on the Vivian Beaumont stage in the Lincoln Center Festival '67 production of Peter Ustinov's THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER AND HIS WIFE. Her creation of Morgan Le Fay in CAMELOT established Miss Dowd as a leading theatrical personality, and her subsequent Broadway appearances include SWEET BIRD OF YOUTH, A CASE OF LIBEL, THE RIGHT HONOURABLE GENTLEMEN and The City Center revival of THE SOUND OF MUSIC. She was seen regularly on ABC's daytime serial THE BEST OF EVERYTHING, and A WORLD APART. Miss Dowd received her theatre training in Chicago at the Goodman Theatre, and made her New York debut as Lady MacBeth with the Shakespearewrights Company, where she also played Portia, Titania and Lady Capulet. Also off-Broadway she was Catherine of Aragon in ROYAL GAMBIT. Miss Dowd's numerous television appearances include THE NURSES, NAKED CITY, FLIPPER, THE TRAIL BEGINS and NBC's THE MODERN WORLD OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. M'el Dowd was last seen at the Playhouse in 1965 in NOT EVEN IN SPRING.

HELEN PAGE CAMP (Fleur Stein)

Helen Page Camp, a stalwart of the acting company of the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles, Miss Camp originated the role of Fleur in AND MISS REARDON DRINKS A LITTLE when it was first presented in Los Angeles. Her performance in that production led to numerous guest starring roles on television in HERE COMES THE BRIDES, WILD, WILD WEST, MAN-NIX, and a hilarious comedy performance, the new Dick Van Dyke film, COLD TURKEY. For several seasons Miss Camp was a member of the National Repertory Theatre Company and toured with Eva Le Gallienne, Farley Granger, Sylvia Sidney in productions of THE CRUCIBLE, RING ROUND THE MOON, SEA GULL, SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER, HEDDA GABLER, and LILLIOM.

WALT WANDERMAN (Bob Stein)

Walt Wanderman just finished playing the part of Chuckles in A THOUSAND CLOWNS with Hugh O'Brian. He arrived on Broadway as Alan Arkin's standby in ENTER LAUGHING and later starred in the West Coast production. He appeared as Roy, one of the poker players, in the National Company of THE ODD COUPLE, with George Gobel and Phil Foster. Mr. Wanderman also starred in the New York and National Companies of THE MAD SHOW. He was acclaimed for his portrayal of Father Drobney in the National Company of DON'T DRINK THE WATER, in which he co-starred with Sam Levine and Vivian Blaine. He appeared in the Pre-Broadway tryout of A PLACE FOR POLLY, with Joan Hackett and the Broadway production with Marian Mercer. He also appeared in LUV in Houston and Dallas. DAVID FRIEDMAN (Delivery Boy)

David Friedman studied drama at Temple University and acting with Sanford Meisner. He studied dance with Matt Mattox and Clive Thompson. Mr. Friedman has just completed the role of Scott in the off-Broadway production of CHARLIE WAS HERE AND NOW HE'S GONE. He has also been seen on the New York stage in WHERE ARE YOU GOING, HOLLIS JAY?, HARLEQUINADES FOR MOURNERS, I'LL TICKLE YOU WITH A FEATHER, HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY, LAMENT, and THE LINEBACKER. Mr. Friedman's voice has sold products from coast to coast.

JERRY ADLER (Director)

Jerry Adler has just completed directing the highly-acclaimed THE HOMECOMING at the Bijou. He is one of Broadway's busiest production managers with assignments from the original MY FAIR LADY to the more recent COCO with Katharine Hepburn and HOME with Sir John Gielgud and Sir Ralph Richardson. Since 1966 he has supervised all of Alexander H. Cohen's productions and found time to assist Mike Nichols on THE APPLE TREE, and Joan Littlewood on OH, WHAT A LOVELY WAR, direct numerous musical and dramatic stock productions; direct last season's THE OFAY WATCHER (by Frank Cucci) off-Broadway; produce Orson Welles' MOBY DICK with Rod Steiger and DRAT! THE CAT! with Elliot Gould on Broadway. Mr. Adler has been production supervisor for all five national telecasts of the Tony Awards, and in the coming Broadway season he will direct Frank Cucci's newest play.

Next Week at the Cape Playhouse

FORTY CARATS, a diamond of a comedy sparkling with wit and humor from start to finish, will open at the Playhouse next Monday, August 8, starring Barbara Britton and a superlative cast.

One of the most successful stage comedies seen on Broadway, FORTY CARATS, written by the French team of Pierre Barillet and Jean Pierre Gredy, whose previous success was CACTUS FLOWER, ran for almost two years and was only recently released for road and summer productions.

The hilarious goings-on reveal a new angle on the generation gap - but not only an angle, a solution also is disclosed. The plot concerns a self-confessed 40 year old real estate agent, played by Miss Britton, and a rich young Romeo of 22 who wants to marry her, despite her protests about the age difference. A sub plot develops with the realtor's teen age daughter's being pursued by a middle-aged Texan.

Highly praised by the critics, FORTY CARATS will provide an evening that is both light and entertaining. We suggest you make your reservations now for a matinee or evening performance. The attractive sets will be designed by Herbert Senn of the Playhouse staff.

Free Subscription Awaits Eligible Subscribers

Three years ago the Playhouse started the custom of giving Gold Keys and one free subscription to those subscribers who had been with us for more than 40 years. We were more than delighted to give these first awards to Mrs. Ella Mae Wood of Dennis, Mrs. Helen Quinn of Centerville, Mrs. Robert MacGregor of Orleans and Mr. Allen Shelton of East Orleans.

Now we are looking for additional recipients of the Gold Key award and, as our records are not too complete, would like to hear from anyone who has been a continual subscriber up to 1935. Please contact Mrs. Tracy at the business office.
